

THE WEEKLY UPDATE

THE NEWSLETTER OF OHIO UNIVERSITY
DEPT. OF SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM

April 20, 2009

Looking for a job?

The Women's Center at Ohio University will be seeking student staff for next year. Please watch for more details later this quarter, however, you should consider PACE (Program to Aid Career Exploration). The Women's Center has one PACE position to fill for next year. To be eligible, you must be an undergraduate student who have completed 30 credit hours, have a minimum of a 2.3 GPA and demonstrate a need for earnings. The application review process is underway, so please check out PACE today at: http://www.sfa.chubb.ohiou.edu/employment/emp_about.html

Fair trade purchasing opportunity!

The Zienzele Foundation is having an African basket sale on May 2 and 3 in front of Baker Center at Ohio University during Mom's week-end. The event will take place on Saturday from 10am - 4pm and Sunday from noon until 4pm. All baskets are made by caregivers of AIDS orphans and all proceeds go back to the caregivers and to pay the school fees of more than 1500 AIDS orphans in Zimbabwe. For more information, please contact Mary Anne Flournoy at flournoy@ohio.edu or visit www.zienzele.org

Strengthening Our Sisters

On Tuesday, April 21, there will be an event sponsored by the OU chapter of NAACP to discuss the different rape myths present between cultures and examine ways to dispel them and build cultural awareness. The event will be held in Baker 230 at 5:00pm.

Movie Night

"Searching for Angela Shelton" is a documentary film in which a woman uncovers an epidemic of sexual assault in America. The film will be shown on Tuesday, April 21, at the Women's Center, Baker 403 at 8:00pm. Pizza and drinks will be provided!

Girlfriend's Guide to Activism

Selam Gerzher-Alemayo, OU graduate student in Cultural Studies, will speak about her life and experiences in activism. Please come and listen to her stories on Friday, April 24, from 3:00pm – 4:30pm at OU Women's Center (4th floor Baker Center).

Brown bag lunch and learn

On Thursday, April 30 at 12pm, Kristine Hoke will speak on career services and strategies for a successful job search at OU Women's Center (part of the Women's Center Mentoring Program). All graduating students, please come and use this opportunity for your job search process!
